A Moment with Yourself - a Journey into your Infinity

Rashmi Aiyappa

Aashwasan Science™ and
Founder of Aashwasan

What makes us who we are? Why does life feel as if it is going in circles? What is so unique about each one of us? How does our presence impact our loved ones and the world around us? Are we always with questions and feel that we never get answers?

Where can we experience the answers to these questions?

The journey within us feels a farfetched one and the complexities that we have woven around us perhaps make it even more hard to experience one's own journey. To traverse from a maze of our complex world to the simplicity of our creation and our inner truth, we seek various ways knowingly and unknowingly. To arrive at one's deepest desire and wish to know oneself requires an exploratory journey into Self.

Aashwasan being an experiential journey opens the gate to the road of an exploration of the infinite self called "Spirit-U-All™". A forum started by Aashwasan, that brings people together to explore, experience and enlighten one's self about life, relationships, health, family, work, science, God, Universe ...You could want to talk about anything, and there is an unconditional & non-judgmental platform set just for you to express, articulate and arrive at your own unique answers or even questions.

This beautiful journey will be facilitated by the world renowned Spiritual Scientist - Rashmi Aiyappa, who will create a moment in time, where you can experience a glimpse of your self within. Many moments such as these can take one deeper into the truth and purpose of one's experience.

If you have a quest, a thought or a nagging feeling which is waiting for a space to express...perhaps this is the opportunity for you...Let's unfold an experience together...
