

CELEBRATING THE "MAGICAL HER"

Amesmerizing evening unfolded on March 8 - International Women's Day at Hotel Hilton where Aashwasan celebrated the specialness of Women as a part of Aashwasan's women empowerment initiative. The presence of Rashmi Aiyappa, spiritual scientist, inventor, social innovator and founder of Aashwasan - a global revolution of love, made it a true celebration of life.

According to Rashmi Aiyappa, Women's Day is not just about celebrating women, it's about celebrating the specialness of each individual. It was true celebration and togetherness that came from complete acceptance and specialness of each person. The gripping part began when Rashmi Aiyappa took people through a journey of self- inquiry, origin of one's self and the fundamentals of our creation. According to her, an individual can become self-aware and celebrate another's specialness only if they connect to their own uniqueness. When this happens, people in relationships grow and discover themselves. Experiencing one's true essence enables people to shed their conditioned patterns and behaviors and experience their innate specialness.

The highlight of the evening was the offering of an experience as a gift to all present. It was a distinctive service called "Love and Bonding", a service that takes people to their origin. All aspects that are not a part of one's true self are shed in that moment thus making it possible for their deepest dreams, wishes and hopes to manifest in one's life.

A participant shared that she broke free of the helplessness. A mother who was overly Cecilia High School celebrated 'Farewell day' with the class 10 students. Lingamma, Headmistress and Hannah Dennis, Principal and other staff members were present on this occasion.

worried about her grown up children came out of the session and said "My children can take care of themselves, but I want to know the purpose of my life and what I can do with myself." Families connected with each other and felt profound togetherness for the first time. A young lady shared that the transformation was truly amazing. Everyone left with brilliance on their face. No one wanted to leave that space even after the session was over. "The Magical her" was a celebration of their being and of life.
